

New Hollywood Rip Ride Rockit Roller Coaster

ORLANDO, Fla. (April 2009) - Universal Orlando Resort is getting ready to unveil one of the most radically innovative roller coasters ever created - Hollywood Rip, Ride, Rockit - set to open late spring/early summer. The coaster combines hit music, breathtaking first-ever maneuvers and highly sophisticated audio and video for a one-of-a-kind ride experience. For more information please see the attached press release.

The Non-Inversion-Loop – A One-of-a-Kind Ride Element

If you think that you're going to be put head over in a Loop – you're wrong! By using the extensive calculation tool XTRAC™ for the first time it has been possible to construct a Looping without a head over position. The unique "Non-Inversion-Loop" has been put into effect for the new roller coaster "Hollywood Rip, Ride, Rockit" at Universal Studios, Orlando. Even small rides can become an extraordinary attraction with this thrilling ride element that offer breathtaking transitions between airtime, panorama view and compression. The Non-Inversion-Loop is the new distinctive signboard for Maurer Rides. A patent has been applied for.

XTRAC™ News

Martin Tändl has joined us to back up our team. As co-developer of our roller coaster software XTRAC™ at the University of Duisburg and a creative dynamics expert, Dr. Martin Tändl brings with him the best qualification for future innovations in roller coaster layouts. Moreover he shall be responsible for the further development of the XTRAC™.
